

Lincoln – A Great Place To Be!

Bollywood Dance Fitness – now happening in Lincoln!

After much demand, the Canterbury Indian Women Group Trust is bringing FREE Bollywood Dance Fitness classes to Selwyn.

A fun 55 min Bollywood Fitness Class is now happening every Saturday morning at 10.30am at the Lincoln Event Centre, with dance fitness instructor Justine Holmes. The class is designed to leave you feeling fit and fabulous. Enjoy a great playlist of Bollywood songs, with choreography that's easy and fun to follow. Note this is 'dance fitness' not 'dance lessons' which mean you follow along to Bollywood fitness-type moves.

Justine says, "Everyone is a beginner when they first start and no one should ever worry about getting everything right because that is totally and utterly unrealistic. Enjoying the music, moving and gaining better fitness is what is important. I am planning on using a similar playlist for a number of weeks in a row. This will help people understand the music and moves, and ensure they get a good workout."

Bollywood is not a single rhythm but music and songs from the Indian Film Industry. Mumbai, the home of Hindi cinema, used to be called Bombay, and so combined with 'ollywood' from 'Hollywood' became Bollywood. Today there is also Tollywood, Kollywood, Pollywood and this has spread out of India with approximately 17 different 'ollywoods' e.g. Ghana in Africa has Ghollywood and Nigeria Nollywood. Today 'Bollywood' incorporates many different rhythms from many different geographical regions within India.

Bollywood movies are famous for their huge colourful dance scenes and joyful vibe.

Archna Tandon, Chair of the Canterbury Indian Women Group Trust says "Bollywood is such fun to dance to and it gets you fit, and I am really excited that we are now able to offer this free class to the people of Selwyn."

Everyone is welcome, so wear some sports shoes, bring a water bottle and come along 5–10 minutes before class starts.

Lincoln township's new Community and Residents' Association

This association is being created to support and advocate for our amazing community. The application for registration has been submitted and approval is expected very soon. Once we have a registered association the first AGM will be advertised and all residents will be invited along and welcome to join. The association will replace the former Lincoln Community Committee that Selwyn District Council dis-established last year. This is an opportunity for any interested parties to join and be the voice that Lincoln deserves.

We have many considerations ahead of us including infrastructure for all our new residents, facilities for our tamariki and town centre upgrade.

With Selwyn District Council being in the middle of the 'Long Term Plan' and submissions open in April, what better time to connect and unify for this process?

All comments and ideas are welcome from anybody in the Lincoln community to help the new Community and Residents' Association to map our way forward.

There is a Facebook group – search for 'Lincoln Community and Residents Association' on Facebook or use the following link: www.facebook.com/groups/336517852544951. There is also an email – lincolnresidents@gmail.com. The Association will also find other relevant and accessible means of communicating with the community it's designed to represent and serve.

This is a new entity, which makes it a great time to get involved and get your part of the community represented.

Highlights from the 2023 Christmas Parade & Market

We had super fun day, bright blue sky, thousands of people, kids galore, and a parade that stretched from the event centre all the way round along Gerald Street and back to the event centre.

Fabulous to have had lot of new and creative floats this year. The prize money was a great draw, little did they know they were going to have so much fun both creating them, and also on the day. A huge thanks to everyone who entered the Parade, you made the day!

- 1st prize of $500 was won by to the 70's inspired Pop/Disco dancers float.
- 2nd prize of $200 went to the Selwyn Community Patrol dinosaurs, they were especially interactive with the crowd.
- 3rd prize of $100 each went to two entries. The Lincoln Primary School band, outstanding music and presentation and the local Lincoln Penny Farthing riding family who faithfully join the parade every year, dressed in full Victorian costume atop those splendid cycles.

There were so many other great floats, the people dressed as Christmas presents looked stunning, and Abbie and her crew riding their tinsel decorated horses drew a crowd.

We could do with more entries in the decorated bikes competition; fun for the young ones to use their imagination and join in the parade.

The all-important clowns, that are in fact an integral part of the safety plan, did a great job – apart from running out of lollies!

The market stalls did a roaring trade, as did the ice-cream vendors!

Again, a huge thanks to our generous supporters, including the Selwyn District Council who came through with a grant, which paid for the insurance and the Portaloos.

As with all great elves, the team comes together long before Christmas to begin the organisation. A massive shout out to the 2023 Santa's helpers. Thank you to Katherine Claridge, Lee Parker, Terrance Courtney, Roger Morgan, Fiona Watson, Lindsey Wilson, Urszula Bedggood, Lynda Courtney, Serina Morgan, Mark Drewitt, Craig Crawford, Lance Roper, Nicole Healy, Kathryn Rickerby and Debra.

*Planning for this year begins in a couple of months, let us know how we did, new ideas, or if you would like to join the team.

What's in a speech sound?

What's in a word?

What's in a sentence?

We all know how important speech and language development is for children from birth to 5 years (and older) to learn speech sounds, words, and sentences. The ability to express needs, wants, information, thoughts, experiences, and more is critical for a child's (and parents too) well-being, self-esteem, and confidence. Its importance can never be underestimated.

Speech and language development is precious for children's knowledge and understanding of the world and learning. By the time they walk into school for their first day, they have had 5 years of help from adults in their environment to be able to understand and use spoken language. From birth, a child requires support from adults to nurture speech and language growth. Children do not and cannot do it on their own.

Children learn through hearing and watching others talking. As young as 3 months old you can see babies watching and listening (and sometimes touching their mother's mouth while she is talking) and then trying to make speech sounds themselves. It is fantastic. The learning keeps on going. For example, a 2-year-old might copy saying their mother's comment "Nice drink". A 3-year-old might copy their grandmother saying,

"Oh, that bird flew away" or "That bird has disappeared".

This means that as adults we all have a precious part to play to nurture speech and language learning for babies, toddlers, and preschoolers. It doesn't stop at a set age. It goes on. Our support gives children fun and love within our relationships with them.

We've had the pleasure of bringing you some very popular films in February including Argylle (what about that cat in the backpack!), the remake of The Color Purple, the Bob Marley story One Love and another fantastic true story The Boys in the Boat. These will continue to screen, whilst we introduce the following new releases this month...

The Great Escaper Drama (M)

Previews 1–3 March & Screening from 7 March

In the summer of 2014 – the 70th Anniversary of the D-Day Landings – octogenarian Bernie Jordan (played by Michael Caine) made global headlines. He'd staged a "great escape" from his care home to join fellow war veterans on a beach in Normandy, commemorating their fallen comrades. It was a story that captured the imagination of the world as Bernie seemed to embody the defiant, "can-do" spirit of a generation that was fast disappearing. But of course, it wasn't the whole story. It was the story we all tell ourselves to make war and old age bearable. The bitter-sweet script explores the reality with wit and a very big heart. Bernie's adventure, spanning a mere 48 hours, also marked the culmination of his 60-year marriage to Irene (Glenda Jackson). The story celebrates their love without sentimentality and with an eye to the lessons we can all learn from the 'Greatest Generation'. Definitely not one to be missed – bit of a tear-jerker too! See it first with us for preview screenings on sale now.

Wicked Little Letters Comedy/Drama (M)

Screening from 21 March

Fiery Rose Gooding (Jessie Buckley) has little in common with the pious Edith Swan (Olivia Colman) aside from them being neighbours in the seaside town of Littlehampton in the 1920's. But one day, Edith starts receiving scandalous letters written with foul language as eccentric as it is obscene, and she immediately accuses Rose of being the poison pen writer behind them. As Rose stands to lose her freedom and the custody of her daughter, and outrageous letters continue to blight the town, police officer Gladys Moss (Anjana Vasani) begins to suspect something is amiss. Together with a group of resourceful women, Gladys endeavours to solve the mystery, liberate Rose, and catch the real culprit. Wicked, weird and wild, British eccentricity at its best. This is an entertaining crowd pleaser that will make you belly laugh.

Ghostbusters: Frozen Empire Comedy/Adventure (TBC)

Screening from 21 March

The Spengler family returns to where it all started – the iconic New York City firehouse – to team up with the original Ghostbusters, who've developed a top-secret research lab to take busting ghosts to the next level. But when the discovery of an ancient artefact unleashes an evil force, Ghostbusters new and old must join forces to protect their home and save the world from a second Ice Age.

The Mountain Adventure/Family (PG)

Screening from 28 March

From the producers of Hunt for the Wilderpeople and Jojo Rabbit, and the directorial debut of Rachel House, The Mountain tells the story of three children on a mission to find healing under the watchful eye of Mt Taranaki.

Sam, a fearless young girl raised outside of her Māori culture, is determined to fulfil her mission of connecting with her mountain in the hope they can heal her from the cancer she battles. Along the way she meets some misfits and new kids in town – Mallory, hoping to find friends, any kind of friends – and Bronco who claims to be a runaway from his dad who is too busy to notice him. As they make their way through the difficult "off the beaten track" route, they learn the true spirit of adventure and the magic of friendship.

Kung Fu Panda 4 Action/Family (TBC)

Screening from 4 April

For the first time in almost a decade, comedy icon Jack Black returns to his role as Po, the world's most unlikely kung fu master. This is the fourth instalment of Dreamworks' comedic martial arts saga, and one not to be missed for fans old and new. Along with the rest of the Furious Five, we meet a new character in the form of crafty, quick-witted thief Zhen (voiced by Golden Globe winner Awkwafina), a corsac fox who really gets under Po's fur but whose skills will prove invaluable. Together this comedic odd-couple duo will work together and, in the process, Po will discover that heroes can be found in the most unexpected places.

Weathering the storm: protecting your trees from extreme weather

In recent years, the impact of stormy weather on trees has become increasingly evident, with events like Cyclone Gabrielle leaving a lasting mark on New Zealand's landscape. As Cyclone Gabrielle swept through the country, its fierce winds and torrential rains wreaked havoc on trees, causing widespread damage that is still having a major impact on affected communities 12 months later.

One of the most significant threats posed by stormy weather to trees is the risk of structural failure. High winds can exert tremendous force on tree limbs and trunks, leading to the snapping of branches or even uprooting of entire trees. In the case of Cyclone Gabrielle, gusts reaching speeds of over 150 kilometres per hour battered trees across the region, leaving behind a trail of destruction.

Older, diseased, or weakened trees are particularly vulnerable during storms, as they may lack the strength and resilience to withstand the onslaught of extreme weather. As Cyclone Gabrielle demonstrated, even trees that appear healthy can suffer damage under such conditions, emphasising the need for regular tree assessments and maintenance.

Storm-damaged trees can also pose significant safety hazards to people and property. Fallen branches or uprooted trees can block roads, damage vehicles or property, and even cause injury or loss of life. In the aftermath of Cyclone Gabrielle, communities across New Zealand faced the daunting task of clearing debris and assessing the extent of damage inflicted by the storm.

Arborists play a pivotal role in assessing the health and stability of trees, providing vital insights into potential risks, and recommending what actions are needed. Thorough inspections before and after storms enable arborists to identify and address weak points in trees, such as diseased limbs or structural defects, reducing the likelihood of storm-related damage. Additionally, strategic pruning and thinning can help improve a tree's resilience to high winds by reducing its overall weight and improving its aerodynamics.

At Beaver Tree Service we always prioritise clients impacted by extreme weather events. We have in the past moved crews from other locations into affected areas to ensure we helped as many people as we could as quickly as we could.

We still continue to advocate for proactive, rather than reactive, tree care and this is why we offer a free quote to customers in the regions we service. This includes an assessment of your trees and their health, as well as options to help care for your trees. Call us today to arrange a time and date and help ensure the health of your trees and future of your property.

Let's not wait for the next extreme weather event to strike before taking action to safeguard our trees and reduce the impact of future storms.

Lincoln Township Trail relaunched

A fine morning, fabulous visitors from near and far, open heritage buildings, and enthusiastic guides, Michelle and Mitch from the Selwyn Libraries Heritage team and Historical Society members, Mary, Betty, Adriana and Carole contributed to an awesome launch of the updated Lincoln Township Trail on Friday 16th February.

It is one of three Selwyn Township trails (more to come) and was described as a lovely Cottage walk by one of our visitors! Liffey Cottage and several others en route were highlights, as were the stories of Lincoln told by visitors. The Trail, updated with additional photos and commentary, has a new route which includes the 'bird bridge', Browns Lane and the Lincoln Maternity Hospital as well as the historic buildings and sites in the centre of Lincoln.

If you are keen to explore, put on your walking shoes and find trails for Lincoln, Prebbleton and Glentunnel at: <https://selwyntownship.stqry.app/>

Wizard With Us! Social Card Game Group

We are a small, friendly social group who come together to socialise and play the enchanting card game "Wizard" each week, either on a Wednesday or Thursday at 1pm. As the box says, "this is no ordinary deck of cards!" Wizard is a fun game of strategy and a specialist 60-card game that is very easy to learn. There may be 3-6 players per game and we need more players!

We'd love to welcome new people of any age to come and join us in this fun and social card game, as well as a coffee and a chance to meet new people and make new friends!

Our gathering is held at lovely local, The Laboratory, located at 17 West Belt, Lincoln. Ideally please contact Trina via email for more information about days and times. Phone number included in case you are unable to email.

Email Trina: lestrina72@gmail.com

Phone: 021 076 4349

Apollo Film Group

When we're not playing the card game "Wizard" you'll find us at the theatre! Why not come along and join us?

We are a group of movie lovers who would like to welcome new people to join us at any one of our upcoming social gatherings to see a film at the Apollo Theatre, located at The Laboratory. We see films during the day on weekdays and generally once a month.

We all purchase our own tickets but see the film together, often having lunch together afterwards. You're welcome to join us for a movie, and you're also welcome to stay for lunch afterwards to meet our friendly group. You don't have to be a local to join us - we have attendees join us from as far as Birdlings Flat! So don't let travel be an obstacle.

We would like to thank Stacy, the wonderful event co-ordinator from The Lab, for her great support in getting films slotted in for us.

Ideally please email me, Trina, with any queries and for the time and date of our next group film viewing! Phone number included in case you are unable to email.

Lincoln University to support green initiatives with new Sustainability Fund

Te Whare Wānaka o Aoraki Lincoln University has announced the first round of funding from its new Sustainability Fund, sourced from a surcharge that applies to all air travel undertaken by University staff.

The first round of funding, totalling almost $40,000, will contribute to a range of projects aiming to support more sustainable research and teaching at the University and/or reduce carbon emissions on campus.

A grant of $15,000 has been awarded to Dr Bin Tian, senior lecturer and researcher in wine science and microbiology, for his project WineCycle, which will transform the waste product of the winemaking process into valuable garden fertiliser.

With more than 40 students enrolled in Lincoln's Viticulture and Oenology programmes annually, the University typically generates ~.5 tonnes of byproduct, known as grape marc, from winemaking. Staff and students involved in the WineCycle project will construct a composting facility for the grape marc, later distributing the compost as fertiliser around the vineyards and other horticulture activities on campus. The WineCycle project will also develop online lecture materials to support the teaching of sustainable winemaking, and will showcase the composting initiative to visiting wine industry professionals.

$10,000 from the Sustainability Fund has been granted to a 10-person cohort of Lincoln University soil scientists to take a low-carbon path to attend the New Zealand Society of Soil Science and Soil Science Australia Joint Conference (NZSSS), to be held in Rotorua in December 2024. This year's NZSSS will bring together 200 leading and emerging soil scientists from Australia and Aotearoa to advance understanding of topics ranging from carbon sequestration to sustainable agriculture.

The Lincoln delegation, comprising a mix of academic staff and students, will travel by train from Christchurch to Picton, then on to Wellington by passenger ferry, with one night's accommodation in the Wellington Central YHA. The group will then travel by bus to Rotorua to attend the conference before undertaking the same journey in reverse to return to campus, sharing their experiences with the community along the way via social media and other channels. This low-carbon path will reduce the greenhouse gas emissions by a full 82% than if the same journey was undertaken by air travel.

A further $8,000 from the Sustainability Fund has been granted to a group of four Lincoln University staff to create a resource guide to assist academics in embedding sustainability into all of the University's courses and programmes.

The project will review a teaching toolkit developed by University College London – Embedding Sustainability in your Teaching and Learning – which outlines strategies to embed Educational Sustainable Development (ESD) into the curricula of tertiary institutions. ESD aims to equip students with the knowledge, skills and attributes needed to work and live in a way that safeguards environmental, social and economic wellbeing for present and future generations.

The new resources developed by Quality Group will support Lincoln staff from all faculties and disciplines to incorporate ESD into Lincoln's courses and programmes.

$3,200 has been granted to a group of Lincoln staff and students from three campus organisations – Lincoln University Students' Association (LUSA), Lincoln Environmental Sustainability Society (LESS) and Sustainability Action Group for the Environment (SAGE). The group manages and promotes Sustainability Week, a campus-wide annual event featuring a wide range of sustainability-themed activities that encourage the University community to think more proactively about their environmental impacts and to behave more sustainably in their everyday lives.

The funding for Sustainability Week 2024 will be used to host related activities, including an event to promote more sustainable transport options for the daily commute, a planting event where 400 native seedlings will be planted in Lincoln University's Arboretum, and a panel discussion focusing on the University's progress towards its emission reduction targets and achieving its sustainability goals.

$3,555 from the Sustainability Fund will be used to purchase the Peek app – a user-friendly online tool that provides an accessible and inclusive student-centred learning environment for field trips and other excursions. Peek will support sustainability education at Lincoln through delivering interactive information to participating students about the ecological, social and cultural features of their excursion locations in and around campus and in the wider Canterbury region.

Lincoln University Vice-Chancellor, Professor Grant Edwards, is also Chair of the University's Sustainability Taskforce. He says sustainability is at the heart of the University's teaching, research and leadership.

"Lincoln is Aotearoa's only specialist land-based university, and we are deeply committed to ensuring future generations can flourish and grow. We are firm in our intent to be an exemplar of sustainable practices for the land-based sector, and the ecosystems within.

“Our Sustainability Fund delivers another opportunity for our staff and student whānau to thrive and grow, and further strengthens our kaupapa to contribute to a more sustainable world.”

Sustainability Fund

Lincoln University’s Sustainability Fund was introduced in late 2023 to support the development of campus or community-based sustainability activities.

The Fund was established to receive, accrue and allocate proceeds from a 5% sustainability surcharge, also introduced in 2023, that applies to all work-related air travel undertaken by Lincoln University staff.

The purpose of the Sustainability Fund is to enable more sustainable research and teaching practice and to support campus initiatives to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Lincoln staff and/or students can apply for grants in groups or individually to a maximum of $20,000 per grant.

Funding applications are assessed by a Sustainability Steering Group, with funds allocated to the successful applicants twice each year.

Demolition of Burns Building

The Burns Building demolition project is progressing well, with the soft demolition now entering the soft strip demolition phase.

Soft strip demo involves removing all linings and fixings from the building, including windows, and is undertaken by manual labour with the use of some small machinery. The soft demo phase will leaving a concrete shell, ready for the hard demolition phase.

A scaffold has been installed along the northern and western sides of Burns, and has been fully scrimmed to prevent debris and dust from distributing over the boundary of the demolition site. The scaffold is the full height of the building and will be progressively removed as the building is demolished.

The contractor, Southern Demolition and Salvage Ltd, plan to demolish the Burns Building using a 38m Hitachi High-reach excavator. The high-reach will enable Southern Demolition to bring the 25.5m building down safely, with extra capacity in the machine’s reach to allow greater control.

This hard demolition phase is likely to begin in late March, and is expected to take approximately 17 weeks.

Selwyn Community Patrol

Last year we patrolled 11,619 kms during 1,046 volunteer hours! This year, we would like to increase that even further.

Have you ever thought about volunteering? If you enjoy driving, have good observation skills, care about keeping our community safe, and enjoy meeting a diverse mix of great people, then this is the opportunity for you.

We need people to patrol daytime, evenings, late night – whatever suits your lifestyle. We particularly need late night owls and daytime patrollers. All we ask is a commitment of just one three-hour patrol per month.

In return you will receive full training, membership of a Community Patrols of New Zealand affiliated patrol supported by NZ Police; a uniform, and the chance to feel that you are contributing to your local community.

Our car is based in Lincoln and covers Lincoln, Prebbleton, Springston, Tai Tapu, Leeston and Southbridge.

There is now a separate patrol for Rolleston.

Timebanks connect

Let's get the Timebanks meeting! An idea was sparked between Fiona, the coordinator of Selwyn Timebank, and Kate, the Mid-Canterbury Timebank coordinator. They decided to get folk from the Timebanks to meet together in Rakaia at the end of January.

Seventeen people gathered in the Salmon Tales Cafe and enjoyed some drinks and nibbles while they met each other and enjoyed getting to know one another.

It was a challenge to pull them away from their conversations, however, the next visit was to the Rakaia Village Green where Dorothy Knight talked about the establishment of this beautiful garden and walkway several years ago. Meandering along the pathway we learnt more about what has been planted there, and the great need for more volunteers to help Dorothy maintain the garden.

Some of the group decided to walk a longer loop via the Rakaia Primary School grounds. Dorothy showed the edible patch that had been planted by herself, as well as the big tomatoes growing in the hot house – ready for the children when they returned to school. The school principal joined in with the discussion and marvelled at how having this garden had helped the children, physically as well as emotionally.

The Timebanks plan to meet together again soon for future events!

Kim Hill Hot Topic discussion in March

Lincoln Envirotown, in conjunction with Lincoln University, will host their annual "Hot Topic" discussion on Thursday, March 28th in the Stewart Building of Lincoln University from 6.30pm. Well-known radio personality Kim Hill will lead a panel of experts who will discuss this year's topic "PLASTIC – how do we live with it". Once the panel have deliberated their varying views, the audience will be invited to question panel members.

Issues relating to the problems associated with our overuse of plastic have been prevalent for many years and its disastrous impacts on ocean life are well catalogued. The panellists will discuss all issues relating to how essential plastic might be, our ability to reduce consumption, and our means of recycling the plastic we use. The evening is always a well-attended, stimulating and an enjoyable occasion; all are welcome.

More details and an invitation to register can be found by visiting Humanitix – 'Kim Hill Hot Topic 2024', or by visiting Lincoln Envirotown's website or Facebook Page.

Part-Time Employment

Responsible Business Coordinator

LINCOLN ENVIROTTOWN TRUST
Selwyn Responsible Business NETWORK

We are looking for a person to coordinate the Lincoln Envirotown Trust Responsible Business Network and Award Scheme for all areas of Selwyn. This scheme, which encourages and supports local businesses to become more environmentally aware and involved with their communities, is supported by the Selwyn District Council.

This will be a part-time contract position. The role involves communicating with the businesses of Selwyn on their sustainable practices and community involvement. The job is extremely varied in its scope with the work undertaken independently, working with the Lincoln Envirotown Project Manager and Coordinator who provide administrative support.

The person appointed will be expected to develop strong ties with businesses through direct contact and social media. How the network is developed will largely be down to the coordinator, but there is an expectation that presentations will be made to business groups, businesses will be visited, and good practices discussed and showcased via social media.

The person appointed needs to be well organised and self-motivated; possess oral and written language skills, as well as a genuine passion for Environmental Sustainability and Community.

This year is an Awards year, and you will be leading a team to assess businesses on their sustainability and community involvement. You will also assist in organising a large Awards Evening at the end of October. Full training will be provided in this aspect of the role.

The full contract in 2024 will carry a total of 10 hours per week (on average) commitment. The contract is set to run from April to December, but we are hoping that circumstances will allow us to offer a further contract to give the position some degree of permanence.

Interested parties are encouraged to contact Dave for more details – projectmanagerlet@gmail.com, Ph 03 423 0445. Please email a covering letter, a short CV, and contact details of two referees to reach Dave by Monday 11th March 2024.

Lincoln Envirotown invite you to a casual evening of delicious bites at The Laboratory Lincoln Mezzanine!

It's a great opportunity to connect with the passionate individuals behind our various projects and share ideas for future initiatives. It's also a chance for us to express thanks to our dedicated volunteers and supporters with a spread of pizza and nibbles. Whether you've supported one of our events or you're simply curious about Lincoln Envirotown Trust, everyone is warmly welcome to join us.

The Lincoln Envirotown Community Gardens are located on James Street, behind the Maternity Hospital. The coordinator, Ruth Wood, invites visitors to come along and inspect the gardens, especially on Monday and Thursday afternoons, or by arrangement.

For information on the Lincoln Envirotown Community Gardens contact the coordinator Ruth Wood.
Email: ruth.wood@xtra.co.nz
Phone: 021 074 3905.

Our continuing dry spell has meant that regular watering has been necessary, but this has brought the rewards of a good vegetable crop. However, the ravaging of our nashi pear and red plum trees by birds and wasps has been disappointing. Even wrapping the plum tree in netting did not deter the birds. But our "black boy" peach trees are looking promising and the harvest is almost ready. We always have a surplus of fruit so if anyone wants peaches that preserve well, please contact me first. A donation towards the community gardens would be appreciated.

Recently, Errol has given presentations on "Easy Composting" at the Lincoln and Rolleston libraries. Among the topics he covered was the concept of soil pH, which probably holds the greatest sway on what grows well in your garden. The soil pH is important because it affects the ability of the roots to absorb various important nutrients (eg, phosphorus, magnesium, molybdenum). While the pH scale ranges from 0 (very acidic) to 14 (very alkaline), the pH of soils fall in a much narrower range and most plants prefer a neutral pH around 7 to thrive. However, some vegetables such as potatoes, carrots, parsley and radish prefer more acidic soils. If your soil is too acidic for other plants, applying some lime will increase its pH.

Two questions arise: (1) Should I test my soil for pH? (2) Do I need to routinely apply lime to my compost heap or soil?

The answer to both questions is, in general, no. The simple pH probes that can be purchased from garden and hardware shops are too imprecise to give useful results. If you have serious concerns about the ability of your soil to grow healthy vegetables, pay for a laboratory test.

Rarely is there a need to apply lime to your soil or compost, especially if you don't know its pH. The best strategy for all soil types is to regularly add a layer of compost to the soil surface ("mulching"). This gradually merges with the soil and brings its pH towards a neutral value close to 7. If you are really keen to grow plants that won't flourish in your soil, create the ideal conditions in a container or raised bed.

Once again, we really appreciate the support of the Ellesmere Lions Club who every year deliver a generous load of hay to the Community Gardens. The bales are well used in mulching and adding to our compost heaps.

Our first event for the year, Tony Bywater's popular bonsai workshop, is already fully subscribed. But anyone who would like to participate in a future workshop by Tony can contact me. Tony is also providing a refresher workshop in April for those who have already attended his basic bonsai course.

On 13th April, Wendy Kentjens from Lincoln University will be presenting 'Fungi in your garden – friend of foe?' at Lincoln Library 10.30–11.30am.

Bonsai Refresher Workshop

at Lincoln Baptist Church
from 9.30 – 1.00 pm on Saturday 6th April

An invitation from our presenter Tony Bywater:

"If you have already done a beginner's workshop, or have some bonsai of your own at home, here is a chance to get further input into the styling and care of your trees. The workshop focuses on further development/refinement and care of existing bonsai, so bring one or more of your trees along for advice and assistance"

Fungi in Your Garden - friends and foes

A Lincoln Community Gardens presentation on Saturday 13th April from 10.30 -11.30 at the Lincoln Library

Some fungi will help your plants to get nutrients and protect them from diseases, while others will make your plants sick. You will find out about promoting the good fungi, and keeping the bad ones in check. You will also learn about the lifecycles of fungi so you know what to look out for to grow healthy plants.

Our presenter, Wendy Kentjens is a Tutor in Plant Pathology at Lincoln University. As well as teaching, Wendy is researching plant diseases and beneficial organisms that can be used for disease control.

Slow down to 20km/h when passing a stopped school bus

Did you know that you're supposed to slow down to 20km/h when you see a stopped school bus? Unfortunately, most drivers don't, but it's a big deal, especially for school kids.

Here's the thing about kids – they're full of energy and excitement, especially when getting off the bus, and they're not always the best at waiting or looking both ways before crossing the road. They can be a little unpredictable.

It's not just about following the rules; it's about safety. A little awareness and patience from drivers can make a huge difference.

Stay alert and slow down around a stopped school bus. Together, let's make sure kids get to where they're going safely.

At Home Exhibition

On now at Te Ara Ātea until 25 May 2024

Te Ara Ātea's new exhibition, At Home, presents artworks by Edith Amituanai (MNZM), Jamie Berry, Megan Brady, Areez Katki, Steven Junil Park, and Marilyn Webb (ONZM). These artists show us that there are many ways to make a home; from objects we use to furnish our houses, to the communities that support us, to the connection we have to the whenua and waterways that surround us, to the reminders we keep of a home that is now far away.

At Home explores what home looks and feels like for those of us who have made our homes together in Aotearoa New Zealand, Waitaha Canterbury, and here in Waikirikiri Selwyn.

At Home can be viewed during Te Ara Ātea's normal hours.

Elder Care Canterbury presentation in Lincoln

Elder Care Canterbury

Tiaki Kaumātua Waitaha

Working together for the wellbeing of Canterbury's older people.

Speaker: Helen Ross from Elder Care Canterbury
1pm, Thursday 21st March 2024
Rata Wing, Community Care Lincoln,
16 Lyttelton Street, Lincoln

The speaker for the March meeting at Community Care Lincoln (CCL) will be Helen Ross, Co-ordinator of the Elder Care Canterbury Network. Helen is a registered social worker with extensive experience in Older Persons Health, Mental Health and Community Development.

Elder Care Canterbury (ECC) is a collective of people representing organisations, service providers and consumers who have an interest in improving the health and well-being of older people in Canterbury.

Elder Care Canterbury is a contract that Enliven, Presbyterian Support has held with the CDHB – now Te Whatu Ora Waitaha – since 2006. Its origins date back to 1997 when it began life as a collaborative undertaking between the 'CHE's' (Crown Health Enterprises) HealthLinkSouth, Canterbury Health, and Pegasus Health in an attempt to integrate and improve health services for older people. A celebration was held to mark its 25th anniversary in late November 2022.

The network of approximately 300 members receive regular email updates on such things as events, services, training opportunities, research, and policy developments relating to older people. Regular forums have been held in Christchurch, Rangiora, Ashburton and at various locations in the Selwyn District with speakers on various topics relating to older person's issues, services and agencies. Representatives from many agencies come together through forums and focus groups. Furthermore, older people have a direct voice through an ECC Consumer Group who are individual consumers of health services, or members of advocacy organisations.

ECC enables active involvement of older people in improving their health services and exchange of information and communication between agencies and groups.

ECC identifies areas where collaboration between groups/agencies will improve services, issues, gaps or deficiencies in health services for older people and ECC advocates for the appropriate changes for improved access to health services for older people.

ECC assists with Information about service gaps so that they are brought to the attention of funders or service providers and also minimises duplication of services.

Helen will present an interactive session on some of the things to consider when it comes to ageing well.

"Join us at the Lincoln Community Care group on Thursday 21st March 2024, from 1pm at the Rata Wing, CCL, 16 Lyttelton Street, Lincoln," says Helen. "All are welcome to attend, whether you are living with advancing age or just thinking that some-day you might be a senior citizen."

Kind regards,
